Sturt Noble Associates was engaged by Mirvac in developing high quality gardens in a new residential development in Randwick.

High resolution was required in both hardscape and softscape design to provide small courtyards that were both functional and of high visual quality to match the market expectations in this top end market location.

The landscape provides a strong, structured streetscape design to relate to the other residential frontages in the area with minimal fencing to frontages.

Planting flows onto the council frontages so as to promote an integrated public domain and incorporates significant tree plantings in the street carriageway.
